

New Stock Auditions 2020

About

Brisbane Arts Theatre's New Stock is an opportunity for young and emerging artists to further develop and fine tune their performance skills. In this year-long performance development programme, the New Stock will work alongside two of Brisbane Arts Theatre's most critically acclaimed actresses, Claire Argente and Emma Reynolds, as their tutors, and will see a multitude of opportunities to gain real-life performance experience as supporting actors in our mainhouse seasons, or as creative personnel in our children's theatre seasons.

Fees

Members of our New Stock program will receive free training in 2020. Brisbane Arts Theatre is committed to the development and growth of Brisbane talent, and we are proud to offer this program at no cost, however all successful applicants will be expected to purchase a Brisbane Arts Theatre Membership ($40).
